THE COMMUNITY BANKERS SCHOOL

The Community Bankers School (CBS) opened its doors to community bankers nationwide, making it not just a Midwest-region opportunity, but The School for community bankers in the country. Also sponsored by the Independent Community Bankers of America, the Community Bankers School provides broad exposure to important elements of community banking. It gives students the most up-to-date thinking on core principles of community banking: compliance, operations, consumer credit, documentation, asset/liability management, marketing, management principles, and much, much more. Plus, it gives attendees a vast range of specific banking skills and techniques that can contribute immediately to their banks' overall success.

Faculty members have been carefully selected to include the finest talent in the country. The men and women who teach the courses are experts in their fields; most have hands-on community banking experience. Formats vary to keep student interest and learning at the highest possible level. Students also take part in problem-solving, case studies modeled on real banking situations, and computer simulations. They'll also receive extension problems that enable them to practice decision-making.

Students receive a notebook for each year of the school. The notebook contains course outlines, supplemental reading materials, as well as exhibits and sample forms. Back on the job, students find their notebooks to be a valuable reference, as well as a handy refresher on the banking skills and methods they learned at The Community Bankers School.

The Community Bankers School is an intensive program designed for today's community bank professional. Here's what students gain:

- background and experience for broader responsibilities and greater effectiveness;
- a broad understanding of the overall deposit, credit, and investment functions of a community bank;
- an appreciation for customer service and an active business-development program;
- insight into a community bank's overall operations responsibilities and techniques for integrating technology into the bank's strategic plan;
- the opportunity to compare and share experience with peers, instructors, and senior bankers;
- the invaluable student notebook which contains course outlines, supplemental reading materials, as well as exhibits and sample forms; and
- the ability to immediately contribute to the overall success of the bank.

Money-Back Guarantee

Should The Community Bankers School not measure up to your expectations, the full tuition will be refunded to your bank.
