CBAI FedPac Needs Your Support

Let's Play Ball!

Baseball season is in full swing and our CBAI FedPac hitting streak continues.

Where: Busch Stadium in St. Louis

When: Wednesday, September 27, 2017 at 7:15 p.m.

Who: St. Louis Cardinals vs. Chicago Cubs

Why: To keep community banking in the game

How: Contact Jessie Schmidt today at 800/736-2224 to secure your tickets

It's time to trade in your banker pinstripes for your Cardinal red or Cubbie blue! Your support for CBAI FedPac is important to our federal governmental relations program. CBAI FedPac was created to enhance the impact of Illinois community banks in Washington, D.C. It helps us support the candidates who believe in our mission to serve our communities and customers.

Bankers can purchase tickets for $200 (personal CBAI FedPac contributions). The cost of admission includes entry into a "Redbird Row Skybox", food, and drink. Don't come alone - bring along a rookie or veteran player from your bank. Tickets are limited so act today to secure your reservations.

Remember, we don't want you to play in just one game - we hope you sign a long-term contract and become a contributing member of the team for many seasons to come. Your commitment will help maintain a strong, vigorous, and competitive community banking profession in Illinois and across the nation.

In addition, associate members and CBAI member banks can help underwrite this event with their generous contributions. Jessie Schmidt, Kraig Lounsberry (800) 736-2224 or David Schroeder (847) 909-8341 are in the dugout to answer any questions regarding sponsorships.

We hope to see you at the old ball game.
