Course Introduction

The role of the personal/universal banker has been enhanced with the advancement of technology, but the customer emphasis has changed to relationship from transactions. Universal bankers used to enjoy a steady stream of customers at our branches. Now, most of us have peak periods when customers crowd our lobbies, but there are very real lulls during the business day that we need to fill with meaningful activity.

The level of professionalism and commitment for us as universal bankers has never been as high as is required in today's banking environment. We're ready for the challenge, and this lesson highlights the journey of our continued skills development as we serve our customers and grow the bank.

Who Should Attend?

Customer Service Representatives, Branch Managers, training staff and others who manage or work the front line would benefit from this program

We will offer a free one-hour webinar overview for managers after the training session on Friday, March 16, from 11:00 a.m. - Noon. This provides an executive overview of the curriculum along with specific coaching ideas to support the skills transfer from the training back onto the job.

About the Presenter

Jennie Sobecki, co-owner of Focused Results, a company concentrating in results-driven process consulting and training experience in community banks and financial institutions leads this program. An expert in designing and implementing sales efforts and processes, Sobecki designs solutions to drive top line growth through better utilization and training of existing sales forces, including sales management.

Sobecki is a graduate of Indiana University and has a certificate in consulting services from Ball State University. Prior to joining Focused Results, Sobecki was director of sales and marketing for a $3 billion bank holding company, sales manager for a high performing mid-level bank, and director of corporate training for a large Midwest insurance company. A charismatic speaker and consultant, Sobecki consults with numerous financial service organizations on revenue, sales, sales leadership, and organizational performance.
